Custom paintings are not begun until payment is made, either by credit card or check.
If you have photographs that you submit as reference material, they will be returned to you with the finished painting.

The first step if you are interested in a custom painting is to call Carolyn and discuss your ideas and desires for a painting. She can give you some input, and suggest what would work in a painting. If agreement is reached, your order would be placed in the lineup of artwork she has already going in the studio. The usual timeline is 2 months, but it might be shorter or longer.
